The keys were perfect and show that the man who made them is something of a skilled mechanic. They are of oak and worked as perfectly as the original iron keys, from which evidently, they were patterned.

Mr. Baldwin has one of the keys in his possession now. It may be that the manufacturer will be given some additional time for his act. He has been a "trusty" and had access to the keys and opportunity to study them.

ordained in Exodus XXIII-18 and XXXIV-22. Historically it is associated with the journey of the Israelites through the wilderness, when they lived in tents, or temporary habitations. In Leviticus XXIII-42 it is commanded that the Israelites shall "dwell in booths seven days," in commemoration of the fact that Israel dwell in booths when God brought them up out of Egypt, hence the name, the Feast of Tabernacles, or Booths.

the Feast of Tabernacies, or Booths.

After the destruction of the national existence of the Jews, the festival gradually assumed the character of a modern harvest festival of a religious nature, in which stress is laid upon the Providence of God as evidenced in the richness and bounty of nature. Here again the high ideal of Judaism is taught in the Conception of God as the Supreme Lord of all, and in contrast to the idolatry, whether ancient or modern, that delifes the forces of nature or nature itself. The fruitfulness of the soil, the teeming bounty of the earth, the Jew is reminded, are the gifts of the great Giver and Author of all life. Hence gratitude is due to thim alone. Man, in the midst of his many blessings, is to remide to the stress of the many blessings, is to remide the stress of the many blessings, is to remide the contract of the stress of the stress of the stress and placed under a bond of $500 for one year.
